

Children meet artist in Dąbrowa Górnicza kindergarten

Children meetings with interesting people, masters in their field of activity, are important element of kindergarten education.

Contact with people for whom a given domain is incredible and fascinating even after many years of being engaged, is best proof to children that the world can be interesting and developing interests and skills brings a lot of satisfaction and effectively protects against boredom.

On 15 September this year during the Little Artist Workshop organized in DG Kindergarten "Equal Preschoolers", children were acquainted with the arcana of painting by Pragya Jain - artist from India.

A few words about the artist and examples of artistic achievements can be found at the following link: Pragya Jain [1]

During the workshop children copied line by line on their papers figures painted by the artist on the board. They carefully followed movements of the teacher, were asking questions on various details of artistic work, shared their own achievements.

The workshop run by an English speaking teacher was for preschoolers not only a method of grinding artistic talent, but also a great opportunity to improve communication in a foreign language.

Creative self-expression, artistic and linguistic skills acquisition proved to be a source of children's undisguised joy!

At the end of the event all children received congratulations and diplomas of Little Artist. The organizer of workshop was Our Children Foundation. We sincerely thank the artist for her help and running the workshop.
